Subject: Call for nominations for the 2022 UNESCO Prize for Girls' and Women's Education

Dear Minister,

It is my pleasure to invite your Government to submit nominations for the 2022 edition of the UNESCO Prize for Girls' and Women's Education.

At a time when the COVID-19 pandemic is continuing to affect education and amplify inequalities worldwide, particularly gender inequalities, initiatives and good practices that support education for girls and women are especially valuable.

To reward remarkable projects and programmes in this domain, the UNESCO Executive Board created this Prize in 2015, with the financial support of the People's Republic of China.

Each of the two laureates of the 2022 Prize will receive an award of US $50,000.

Nominations must be submitted in English or French by midnight on 20 May 2022 at the latest (UTC+1, Paris time) via an online platform available to Member States from 8 March onwards at the following link: <http://unesco.org/gwe>.

Each government may present up to three nominees. UNESCO encourages Member States to implement a national selection process and to publicly announce their selected nominees.

The Prize Secretariat (e-mail: GWEPrize@unesco.org) is at your disposal for any further information you may require.

Yours sincerely,

Audrey Azoulay
Director-General
