

SANBio Mobility Grants New instruments available

SANBio launches an extension to the mobility grant to include fellowships for candidates in the SANBio Member States.

The SANBio Mobility Grant offers:

1. Support to candidates on fellowships is for a duration of up to 3 months and may include travel in the region or internationally.
2. Experts in technical or business fields may be invited by host institutions for up to 4 weeks for specific technical assistance to be provided to organisations in SANBio member states
3. Knowledge exchange/peer to peer visits for up to 2 weeks duration includes regional and international meetings as well as seminars or training courses with a specific focus in the areas of health and nutrition and on strengthening the visibility of SANBio network partners.
4. Business development mentorship programmes to support bio-science start-ups for up to two weeks with the aim to support commercialisation of research outputs.

SANBio Network encourages more applications from the region. The Mobility Grant is open until December 2018.

Ten grants to support fellowships worth R 100, 000 each for travel support will be awarded up to 31 March 2018.
