- (i) SC/GCE 'O' level with credits in at least five subjects, including English Language, at one and same sitting;
- (ii) HSC/GCE 'A' level with three subjects at Principal level obtained at one and the same sitting and a Pass in General Paper; and
- (iii) A minimum standard of Second Class Bachelor's degree.

OR

B. An alternative qualification equivalent to above.

It is the responsibility of candidates to provide any relevant documentation relating to the equivalence of certificates.

Note: Candidates who are selected for the scholarship would need to provide evidence of International English Language Testing System (IELTS) or Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores which are no more than two years old and meet the minimum requirement for entry into their preferred programme of study.

Candidates who do not have these tests are strongly advised to initiate arrangements to sit for these at the earliest available slots.

2.2 Age Limit

Candidates should not be more than 39 years of age for Master's and PhD by the closing date for the submission of applications.

2.3 Important documents to be submitted with application form

In order to enable the New Zealand Selection Committee to ascertain the relevance of study to the country's development, all candidates are requested to submit the following:

- (a) A statement of no more than 500 words describing the specific skills and knowledge the applicant wants to gain from the proposed study and how this study will contribute to the role and responsibilities of his/her current and/or future job;

and

- (b) A statement on a separate sheet of no more than 500 words describing specifically how the proposed study and/or research will enable the applicant to contribute to the social or economic development of their home country. Reference to any existing national skills shortages or labour needs in the home country will strengthen the application;

2.4 For Research Masters and PhD applicants

In addition to 2.3(a) and (b) above, candidates for Masters by Thesis and PhD have to provide an outline of no more than 500 words of the proposed research topic, research question and objectives, methodology and timeline. Please note that most PhD and some Masters research students will be expected to undertake fieldwork in their home country (funded by the scholarship). The candidate should clearly demonstrate the significance, benefit and application of the proposed research topic to the development of his/her home country.

Candidates should, along with the application forms, also submit any examinations results, academic transcripts and References reports. Candidates are also expected to indicate in their application whether they have been recipient of any academic prizes and evidence of publications where appropriate.

Applicants are also encouraged to provide evidence of other relevant activities pertaining to their field of application.
